

Ashok B. Shah
Managing Partner, CEPS Consulting LLC

Ashok B. Shah is a past President of the IACCGH and now serves on the Board of Directors. He is the Founder and Managing Partner of CEPS Consulting LLC, a consulting firm for the information technology and telecommunications industry.

Prior to joining CEPS, he served as Vice President of Global Professional Business division at Alcatel-Lucent, and held various management positions at Digital Equipment Corp., Compaq Computer Corporation and Hewlett-Packard.

Mr. Shah is a member of the Leadership Board of the Cullen College of Engineering at the University of Houston and the Executive Advisory Council for the College of Business Administration at Rider University in New Jersey.

He holds a Masters of Science Degree in Electrical Engineering from Worcester Polytechnic Institute in Massachusetts, and attended the Executive Development Program at Penn State.