About the Speaker

An expert in business performance, Ravi Kathuria is the President of Cohegic Corporation, a management-consulting, executive coaching and sales coaching firm. Having worked with hundreds of executives, and having led major cross-functional management initiatives, Kathuria has mastered how to help organizations improve their strategic and execution capabilities across the board.

Kathuria is a vivacious speaker. Under his leadership, the Houston Planning and Strategic Forum, a non-profit, volunteer organization, grew from a boutique group to Houston's preeminent business association featuring the who's who of major CEOs in Houston.

Kathuria is the author of Coherent Strategy and Execution: An Eye-opening Parable. It is an insightful and engrossing story about a CEO, Trent Wertheimer. Trent believes he is perfect and can take his company to the next level. But the harder he tries, the deeper he digs himself into a hole. This is the story of not just the transformation of Trent's company, but the difficult personal transformation of Trent, and his leadership team.
