

Mind Your Own Business

Mr. Ken Jones

Ken Jones has more than 25 years of experience creating, building and selling businesses. His background includes an array of responsibilities with documented success in the areas of entrepreneurial development, turnaround management consulting, software development and implementation, and e-business creation.

Mr. Jones is the Director of the Center for Entrepreneurship and Innovation at the University of Houston-Downtown.

What if you had to compete against yourself and win?

How honest can you be in answering this question? So many business people get into business and know their craft but there is a growing need to marry the craft knowledge with ways to best monetize their skill sets.

Come and listen to an “edutaining” discussion on what you can do. You can be assured you come away learning at least one very solid step you can take to help get one of your wheels out of the ditch. It is a wonderful workshop where the participants on each of their respective businesses.

DATE: December 12, 2009 | TIME: 9 am to Noon

VENUE: UHD Downtown

For more information or to register contact IACCGH
Email info@iaccgh.com or call 713-624-7131
www.iaccgh.com

Co Hosted By:

Indo-American
Chamber of Commerce of Greater Houston

University of Houston - Downtown